

The 40th BMSS
ANNUAL MEETING
RNCM MANCHESTER UK
03-05 SEPTEMBER 2019

MEETING OVERVIEW

In 2019 we are returning to Manchester, a very fitting location, for the 40th BMSS Annual Meeting. To celebrate this milestone we have included a special social event with live music performed by graduates of the Royal Northern College of Music.

A vibrant national mass spectrometry society is in everyone's interest... academia, industry & vendors alike, so I warmly invite you to join us for the BMSS40 celebrations. In 2019 we are collaborating with the British Society for Proteome Research and I extend a very warm welcome to all BSPR members.

...Location, Location, Location

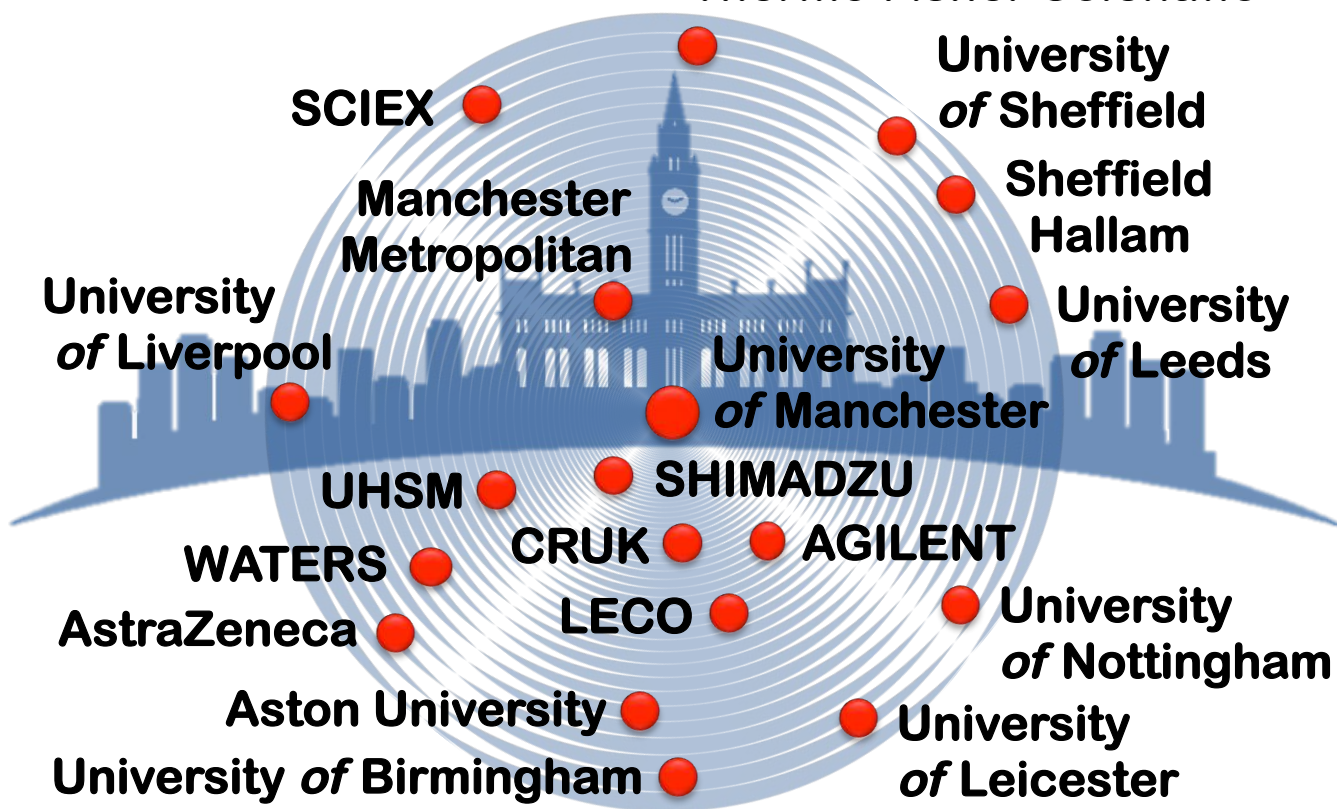

Manchester

Manchester is the natural location for the 40th BMSS Annual Meeting. John Dalton, J.J. Thompson & James Chadwick were all born, educated or worked in the city. The first commercial MS instruments were developed in Trafford Park, and today Manchester is the anchor point for one of the largest MS clusters in Europe !

Mass Spectrometry

The universities of the region and their associated institutes and hospitals form a network of MS excellence. Most of the major instrument companies have facilities in the region together with numerous service providers.

Well Connected

Manchester is well connected to the UK motorway and rail networks. Manchester International Airport is connected to the city center by both direct rail and Metrolink tram services. Within the city the Metrolink tram and bus services make getting around simple and inexpensive.

Accommodation

The 40th BMSS Annual Meeting coincides with several other major conferences in Manchester. Consequently hotel accommodation is anticipated to be at a premium. BMSS, through its exclusive accommodation partner HelmsBriscoe, have secured a block of hotel rooms at preferential rates for BMSS40 delegates.

The 40th BMSS Annual Meeting...

The Conference Venue

The Royal Northern College of Music (RNCM) will provide a stunning modern setting for the 40th BMSS Annual Meeting. Conveniently located on Oxford Road, at the heart of Manchester's University Quarter, and well connected by public transport.

The RNCM provides excellent lecture theatres. The main concourse, tiered over three interconnected levels, will host the vendor exhibition. The RNCM's grand public spaces will provide an architecturally impressive backdrop for interaction with fellow delegates and the Curry Night Social.

The Curry Night Social

Manchester's affair with curry began in the 50s. In the 80s & 90s the 'Curry Mile', in Rusholme, became the epicentre for food from the Indian subcontinent. In its heyday the curry mile offered mainly north Indian, or Punjabi, cooking. In recent times south Indian, typically Keralan, style food is becoming popular throughout the city.

The BMSS40 Curry Night & Social Evening, at the RNCM, will continue the affair! Live music will be provided by alumni of the RNCM.

The Conference Dinner

The Hall of Fame at the core of the National Football Museum will be the spectacular setting for the BMSS40 conference dinner. Pre-dinner drinks will be served on the mezzanine floors that cascade through the building and overlook the hall of fame.

The museum is housed in the Urbis building with its iconic sloping glass form and adiabatic cooling system - making it one of the most energy efficient buildings in Britain. Urbis was opened in 2002 as part of the redevelopment of Manchester's Exchange Square district with a convenient Metrolink (tram) stop.
